

Recognizing Our Organizational Excellence In Action

Sunrise Transport Team

"Customer Focus"

*Growing Ideas
Producing Excellence*

I would like to recognize Myron and his TEAM of drivers and dispatch for their efforts in both planning and executing deliveries in the past two weeks. This was the most snow many customers have ever seen - especially in the Baltimore and DC areas... Snow scares and impending storms are just what the doctor ordered for excellent sales at retail, but you need to replenish immediately afterwards. We can buy and sell all the produce in the world, but getting it to them is a key part, and one that we proved we are tops in our industry at this past week. When our competition was unable or unwilling to deliver, Myron and his TEAM were driven to get our customers what they needed...we overcame severe challenges and satisfied some of the most demanding customers we have.
