JUST REAL FOOD!

From our first chicken sausage over 25 years ago until now, our values have remained unchanged. We believe that real food is made simply, from sustainably sourced ingredients that are grown with integrity and respect for the land and animals, and for the people that grow them.

Food is a journey, not a destination. From the ground up, our simple ingredients are sourced, grown, and raised responsibly. We use only whole ingredients – no flavorings or pre-blended mixes here – and never use any artificial ingredients or preservatives. Our chickens are treated humanely at all times, and are not treated with hormones or antibiotics.

Bilinski's never compromises on flavor, and our products are minimally processed so our ingredients shine through. Our products are good and good for you, because we believe that eating well and eating healthy are one and the same.

Like the foraging bee, we collect delicious, nutritious ingredients from the land and combine them together into clean, simple, and conveniently healthy recipes – similar to how the bee collects pollen and nectar to transform them into honey. We think the whole process of making food, building from the ground up, matters. We think it matters to you too!

Products are produced in Cohoes, New York. For more information: www.bilinski.com

At Bilinski's we have always believed in meats that are raised in clean, comfortable conditions with integrity- with no antibiotics, no animal by-products in their feed and no hormones.
