

ORGANIC MARKET NEWS

AUGUST 29 - SEPTEMBER 5, 2025

NEW CROP ORGANIC GALA AND HONEYCRISP APPLES

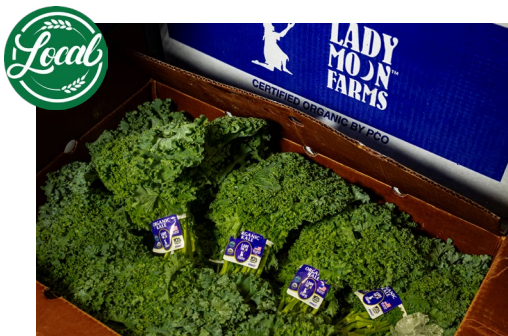

GOOD NEWS! Organic Gala Apples have fully transitioned to the 2025 new crop out of Washington. Excellent supply is expected with some promotional opportunities on small and bagged fruit.

GOOD NEWS! New crop Washington Organic Honeycrisp Apple harvests continue to ramp up with steady supplies expected moving forward. Prices are expected to ease once the pipeline fills toward late September into early October. Fresh product is available in bulk, bags, and pouches.

Organic Granny Smith Apples are in flux with limited import fruit and limited new crop California fruit now available. Supplies will be erratic until new crop begins out of Washington in early October.

Storage Organic Envy Apples are expected to finish for the season by the end of September with a gap until mid-October. Storage and import Organic Pink Lady Apple supplies continue to tighten and may have a small gap before new crop in November.

OG LOCAL VEG

GOOD NEWS! Organic Kale, Lacinato Kale, Red Kale, and Collards from LOCAL Lady Moon Farms in PA are increasing in volume with excellent quality and promotable quantities.

GOOD NEWS! LOCAL PA Organic Acorn, Butternut, Delicata, Kabocha, and Spaghetti Hard Squashes are in peak season! LOCAL PA Organic Pie Pumpkins are now in stock too!

Organic Zucchini supply has dropped from Lady Moon Farms. Supplemental supply is available from LOCAL Flaim Farms in New Jersey.

LOCAL Organic Cucumber volumes are tightening on the East Coast. Limited supply is coming from Flaim Farms, NJ. Production in the Carolinas is expected soon. Mexico will be relied on more to fill the supply chain.

ALERT! Organic Green Beans are in a supply gap from LOCAL growers. Expect sporadic supplies in early September.

NOTE: Berry shelf life shortens in late summer. Prioritize refrigeration and fast inventory turns.

OG BERRIES

Organic Strawberries are fairly promotable as harvests increase from Salinas and Watsonville, CA. Quality has been okay, though warm overnight temps are creating softer fruit and higher bruising. Transition to new crop Santa Maria, CA fruit will begin by early September.

Organic Blackberries remain steady from California with steady volume, and consistent pricing. NOTE: Shelf-life is shorter this time of year.

Organic Raspberries have decent supplies from California with decent quality and steady pricing.

ALERT! Organic Blueberry pricing has increased as availability tightens quickly with USA crops finishing. Peruvian harvests remain light and port delays are adding pressure. Expect limits and possible shortages. The good news is that quality has been excellent.

OG TOMATOES

GOOD NEWS! Organic Grape, Cherry, and Rainbow Cherry Tomatoes are flushing with excellent quality and strong volume from LOCAL PA Lady Moon Farms. Promote!

GOOD NEWS! Organic Heirloom Tomatoes continue promotable from Lady Moon Farms with outstanding quality.

Organic Vine Ripe Tomatoes from LOCAL PA and OH growers continue in peak season.

Greenhouse Organic Beefsteak Tomatoes are improving as Mexico harvests begin. Quality is excellent. Canadian supplies will increase in late September with new crop fruit.

OG PEARS

GOOD NEWS! New crop Organic Asian Pears and Bartlett Pears are now in excellent supply from CA and WA.

OG CELERY

GOOD NEWS! Organic Celery from California remains promotable into September with strong production, excellent quality, and aggressive pricing.

OG REGENERATIVE VEG

NEW ITEM! Organic Regenerative Romaine Hearts in 12/3 ct Josie Organics label packs from Braga are now available (code 245917). Braga is pioneering regenerative agriculture with row crop vegetables.

Organic Regenerative Sweet Baby Broccoli (code 236807) is also part of this new line.

OG MELONS

GOOD NEWS! Organic Cantaloupes and Honeydew remain value-driven with lowest prices of the season.

Excellent flavor on Organic Cantaloupes and Organic Honeydews.

Organic Galia Melons are also available.

OG GRAPES

GOOD NEWS! Organic Grapes remain in peak season from California with excellent size, flavor, and quality across all colors. Promote through September!

Organic Specialty Grape varieties available in UPC clamshells include "Autumn Crisp", "Candy Snaps", and "Thomcords" in clamshells.

OG CITRUS

GOOD NEWS! Organic Mandarins from South Africa remain available in 12/2 lb Candy Mandies Bags through early September.

Organic Lemons are shifting as imports wind down. Mexico will enter the market in September with stronger supply and more promotable pricing.

OG AVOCADOS

GOOD NEWS! Organic Hass Avocados from Mexico are in great supply, especially 48 ct, with promotable opportunities.

Equal Exchange Organic Fair Trade Avocados will have first fruit of the season from Mexico available starting September. Supplies will be sporadic for early September so supplement Organic Fair Trade fruit can be sourced from Calavo.

Organic Green Skin Avocados from Florida are steady heading into September.

OG STONE FRUIT

California Organic Yellow Peaches, Yellow Nectarines and Organic Black Plums will continue in season through mid-September.

Eastern Organic Yellow Peaches and Pluots will wrap up for the season by early September.

Organic Red Plums will remain available until mid to late September with some excellent fall varieties.

Organic Cherries and Apricots are done for the year.

OG WATERMELONS

Organic Mini Seedless Watermelons remain available from California, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. California continues to present the most availability and highest quality, with season expected to run through early October. Ohio and Pennsylvania continue to offer quality fruit despite cooler weather.

California Organic Seedless and Seeded Watermelons growers will wrap up their season in early September. The LOCAL Pennsylvania crop will finish soon as well due to cooler weather.

OG PINEAPPLES

ALERT! Organic Pineapples will remain very limited through August with very high pricing.

Expect prorates and out-of-stocks during early September.

OG ASPARAGUS

ALERT! Mexican Organic Asparagus remains very limited, with supply tight in Southern Baja and Northern Baja, Mexico. Relief is now expected in mid-to-late September.

Peru has opened more fields in both north and south regions, with a steady long term outlook of supply expected November through January.

OG PEPPERS

Organic Hothouse Peppers are steady from Canada. Organic Red Peppers are more affordable as volumes increase, with excellent quality. Organic Orange and Yellow Peppers remain steady.

NEW ITEMS!

LOCAL PA Organic Purple Bell Peppers, Orange Habanero Peppers, and Sweet Banana Peppers are now available.

OG MANGOS

NOTE: Overall Mango supply will be limited through September.

Organic Mangos from Crespo Organics in Mexico remain in peak season with Jumbo/XL 6/7/8 ct sizing. This last of the season fruit is non-hot water treated with excellent flavor.

California-grown Organic Keitt Mangos will transition in. These will have greener skins than Mexican fruit and pricing will be higher.

OG LETTUCE

Organic Lettuce supplies remain favorable from Canada, though high temps have temporarily reduced yields. Conditions are expected to improve quickly. California supply remains available at higher cost.

Organic Romaine Hearts from California are increasing, while Quebec supplies will support the market. Organic Iceberg Lettuce availability is improving with better quality.

OG BROCCOLI & CAULIFLOWER

GOOD NEWS! Organic Broccoli from California is in excellent condition with outstanding quality. Availability has driven aggressive pricing.

Organic Cauliflower supplies remain steady, though California growers are facing quality challenges. Prices are rising as availability tightens. This is expected to be short lived as growers monitor conditions.

Organic Romanesco supply is steady and quality is excellent.

OTHER STORIES

ALERT! Organic French Beans remain limited due to delayed containers and weather-related challenges in Peru.

NOTE: Code 41145 OG Salad Spinach Baby 6/1 lb Earthbound Clamshells will see a brief supply gap around Labor Day weekend and week due to a packaging supplies hiccup.

NOTE: Organic Peeled Garlic will return to start September, though in limited supply.

Organic Tomatillos will be available in limited supply to start September.

Organic Longan Fruit is available now from Florida in 10 lb bulk cases. Limited season, ending soon!

Organic Carrots remain in excellent supply out of California with good quality.

CONVENTIONAL MARKET NEWS

AUGUST 29 - SEPTEMBER 5, 2025

PEAK PEAR SEASON BEGINS

Subarashii Kudamono Asian Pear Orchard,
Kempston, PA

The 2025 USA Pear season is here!

New crop Bartlett Pears are in peak season from California, Oregon, and Washington! The crops appears to be a good on Bartletts, the famous pear variety with skins that change from green to yellow as the fruit ripens after picking.

US#1 grade in 40-44 lb tissue wrap and 27 lb display cases will be the cleanest from an appearance standpoint. Lower priced Fancy grade Bartlett Pears, which show some occasional limb-rub and other minor scarring, will be a good value this season since the overall crop is pretty clean.

LOCAL Asian Pears have arrived and offer an outstanding eating experience. This is an excellent item to promote.

Northwest Starkrimson Red Pears (US #1 20-22 lb tissue wrap and 27 lb display boxes) are in peak season and add a gorgeous color pop to pear sets and taste great too.

California Golden Bosc Pears are available and looking sharp, but are limited in volume. Peak season for Bosc Pears will begin in October when the Northwest growers get into their harvests.

Import Anjou Pears have finished for the season. New crop Washington Anjou Pears are expected to begin by the second week of September.

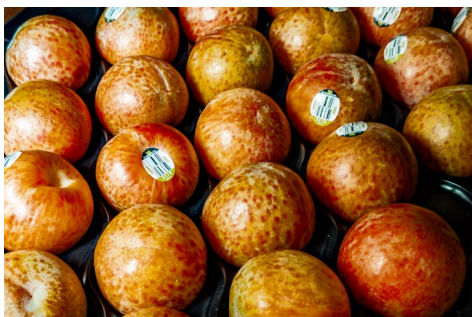

CV LOCAL VEG

GOOD NEWS! LOCAL Green Beans remain plentiful, with good quality and pricing out of Pennsylvania and New York.

GOOD NEWS! Green Peppers are in good steady supply from LOCAL Pennsylvania and New Jersey growers with excellent quality. These remain promotable.

Sweet Corn will continue to be available LOCALLY but volume is expected to slow down as we approach later plantings and the seasonal transition. Across September quality remains excellent.

CV STONE FRUIT

GOOD NEWS! Red, Black, Mottled, and Yellow/Green Plumcots and Pluots are expected to continue in good supply through September. This period brings some of the best varieties of the season and offers a strong opportunity to build impactful displays to drive sales.

Eastern LOCAL Peaches out of Pennsylvania and New Jersey continue in season through mid-September.

The transition from "Summeripe" pre-conditioned conventional Yellow Peaches and Nectarines to "Autumnripe" has begun at Mountain View in California. This fruit offers the same excellent quality with new fall marketing and varieties. Steady supplies are expected through early October.

Washington Cherries remain available with late season high elevation fruit with strong pricing. Supplies are expected to run out for the season by mid-September.

NOTE: Berry shelf life shortens in late summer. Prioritize refrigeration and fast inventory turns.

CV BERRIES

NOTE: Strawberries continue to be on the tighter side with elevated pricing. Overnight temperatures remain warm, not allowing the fruit to firm back up which is creating slight bruising and quality issues. ALERT! This is an industry-wide problem. Keep Berries under refrigeration and continue truck-to-shelf ordering to limit shrink and give consumers the best product possible.

ALERT! Blueberries will have very short supplies in early September out of Peru. Early season Peru has excellent quality, but volume is light. Volume is expected to be tighter through September.

Raspberries will be promotable out of California and Mexico in early September on price. Supplies are strong and demand is soft leading to aggressively priced fruit. Quality has been decent overall from both regions, though fast inventory turns are recommended.

Blackberries will be promotable on price out of California in early September. Volume continues to be strong and fruit has been priced to sell. Quality is okay but continue to focus on turns and keeping product under refrigeration this time of year.

CV MELONS

GOOD NEWS! Cantaloupes and Honeydews out of California are premium quality with excellent sweet flavor across all varieties. Pricing is value driven on both Cantaloupes and Honeydews.

Specialty Melon offerings include Tuscans, Golden Dews, Orange Dews, Canary, Galia, and Golden Hami.

CV MANGOS

Mangos from Mexico are in the final stages of shipping. Expect large-sized "Keitt-Kong" 6 ct Keitt Mangos to end the season. Brazil has started with high pricing due to low availability and tariffs.

NOTE: Ataulfo Honey Mangos from Mexico are done for the season.

CV PEPPERS

Hothouse Color Bell Peppers continue to be available. Expect pricing to ease as more supplies become available. Sizing will be on the smaller side due to recent high temperatures but quality should remain nice. Mexico fruit is slowly starting to become available for the fall season.

Mini Mix Peppers prices have eased, with more product from Mexico available to stabilize supply.

CV PUMPKINS & ORNAMENTALS

Pumpkins and Ornamentals will be available to start the fall season around Labor Day. Quality looks good with a full line expected by 9/4 including LOCAL PA Face Pumpkins, Heirloom Pumpkins, Gourds, Mini Pumpkins and more!

CV AVOCADOS

GOOD NEWS! Hass Avocados are plentiful out of Mexico. Prices are promoted for early September and fruit is being pushed aggressively.

Pre-conditioned fruit is available in all sizes and will be ready to eat quicker for the consumer.

CV CITRUS

GOOD NEWS! Mandarin Oranges are an excellent item to promote for flavor and quality from all South American regions. Additional displays should be in place for back-to-school business.

Navel Oranges and Cara Cara Oranges are top notch quality out of South America. Prices are expected to rise during September.

CV WATERMELONS

Seedless Watermelons will remain available with prices staying steady. Most East Coast growers will wind down shortly after Labor Day.

Mini Seedless Watermelons will remain available out of California for the month of September. Pricing will remain steady.

CV GRAPES

GOOD NEWS! California Grapes will begin to show a four-tiered market as best of the best Autumn Crisp Greens enters the supply chain. Expect a wide spread from premium, Jumbo Autumn Crisp down to value large Grapes.

Specialty offerings include Autumn Crisp clamshells, Cotton Candy, Moon Drops, Gum Drops, Tear Drops, and Thomcord clamshells.

CV LETTUCE

The Lettuce category in Quebec is now seeing more ideal conditions which is helping support the volume void from mid-August. Romaine Hearts and Iceberg markets are falling back down after jumping up.

Increased demand in California caused markets to inflate on the West Coast primarily in Iceberg Lettuce, but relief is occurring quickly.

CV PINEAPPLES

ALERT! The Pineapple market is in rough shape. Supplies are very light due to low production. Prices were already high from not enough volume to meet demand, and are now going higher due to increases in tariffs kicking in.

Expect pro-rates and occasional out-of-stocks into early to mid-September.

CV CITRUS

Australian 28ct Dekopon Mandarins are now available from Dracula Citrus in the “Mega Mandy” brand. Dekopons are a jumbo easy-peeler with bumpy skin and a knob on top that most people are familiar with from the SUMO Citrus brand.

CV BIN BROCCOLI & CAULIFLOWER

OUTLOOK: LOCAL PA “Plain Community” growers will begin harvests on 110 ct bin Stalk Broccoli in early September followed by 60 ct bin Jumbo Jacket Cauliflower in mid-September.

Stay tuned for more info.

CV APPLES

LOCAL Eastern Gala and Honeycrisp Apples are now ramping up to peak season supply.

New crop LOCAL Eastern McIntosh Apples will begin around Labor Day in large and small bulk, 3 lb bags, and 8 ct totes.

New crop LOCAL Eastern Red Delicious Apples are expected to begin by early September in large and small bulk, 3lb bags, and 8ct totes.

The first new crop Sweetango Apples are expected to be in stock by 9/8.

CV BROCCOLI CROWNS

Maine grown Broccoli Crowns are back into good supply after enduring high temperatures which are uncommon during this time of the year. California production is readily available as a secondary supply, while conditions vary between suppliers resulting in a higher overall cost from the West Coast. September outlook shows favorable growing conditions overall.

CV TOMATOES

LOCAL Round Tomatoes continue to be available with light volume out of Pennsylvania. Quality has been exceptional.

GOOD NEWS! Grape Tomatoes remain the most promotable with good volume and aggressive pricing.

Medley, Cherry, and Cocktail Tomatoes remain available with steady supplies.

Hothouse grown Beefsteak Tomatoes and Tomatoes on the Vine pricing has eased as demand slows down. Quality has been excellent with good volume.

OTHER STORIES

Root Vegetables are beginning to take a bigger role in the produce department with Autumn approaching. We have good steady supplies and pricing on Rutabagas, Radishes, Beets, Turnips, and Parsnips.

ALERT! Mexican Asparagus remains limited and the extended range of prices has reduced demand to the bare minimum.

NOTE: Jumbo Artichokes are enduring quality concerns and availability is beginning to become limited. This is expected to be short lived and is due to climate challenges.

NOTE: West Coast Brussels Sprouts supply is tightening up with markets rising. Temperatures endured have not been suitable which has impacted yields.

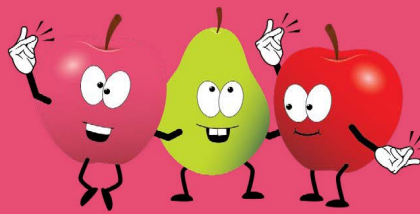

Celery production in California varies between suppliers. Conditions are expected to improve over the next few weeks.

Bag and Baby Carrots have good supply, quality, and availability which continues to meet expectations out of California.

Canadian 50 lb Carrots are becoming available for processing items and at a lower cost as Mexico tightens up.

Grapefruit varieties from California are transitioning from “Star Ruby” into “Summer Ruby”. “Summer Ruby” are sweet and tangy, but without the deep ruby color internally.

Enjoy Tear Drops from mid August through September.

Fall Planning...

ALREADY?!?

August through early September is PRIME TIME FOR PLANNING for a successful fall selling season. Soon your shoppers' tastes will change from summer type fruit, such as Cherries and Peaches, and move into commodities like Apples, Pears, and Fall decorations.

- Now is a great time for doing deep cleans of your cases and counters. The historically slower month should allow a full on sanitation assault, so your counters are fresh and ready for the Fall harvest changeovers.

- August is also Back to School Month. Start thinking of bringing in some extra fruit for parents to pack in the kids' lunch boxes. Opening up on bagged apples and oranges is generally a good start, but also be thinking about items like dried fruit, nuts, and other dry line snacking items.

- Start thinking and forecast a date for your counter resets. Ideally a couple weeks after Labor Day is a good time to move. Peaches, Nectarines, and Plums will still be available and great items to promote, although they should take a backseat when Apples take center stage. Contact your Four Seasons Merchandiser to plan a date together.

- Building an outdoor display with Pumpkins and other Fall Ornamentals add a "fall harvest" feel as customers walk into your store. Other commodities are great to promote outdoors are local apples, broccoli, and cauliflower.

- Look at areas of your department where items may have gotten "lost." It's a perfect time to load in on those lower risk items such as Apple Dips, Apple Crisp, Juices, Dressings, Jarred Fruit, and Jarred Garlics to name a few.

- Set up a cross merchandising calendar with other departments in your store with space allocated for tie-in items.

Success starts with great planning! September is right around the corner. Having a set plan in place ahead of time for the bountiful season ahead will set you up for some bountiful harvests of your own!
