

ORGANIC MARKET NEWS

JANUARY 9 - JANUARY 16, 2026

WINTER CROP ORGANIC CAULIFLOWER & BROCCOLI

Organic Cauliflower from California has reasonable pricing with strong counts and solid packs.

Organic Broccoli Crowns are producing very well in California, while the East Coast continues to offer Organic Broccoli primarily in bunches. Quality is strong across both regions, with promotable pricing emerging on bunches.

Organic Sweet Baby Broccoli remains in steady supply with excellent quality from West Coast shippers, with promotable pricing expected later this month.

Organic Romanesco remains in steady supply with excellent quality.

OG CITRUS

ALERT! California Organic Citrus continues to face significant challenges after nearly three weeks of minimal sunlight, heavy rain, early morning fog, and low temperatures caused stress and shock to groves.

ALERT! An early end to the California season is expected, along with ongoing quality concerns, supply issues, and inconsistencies for the balance of the season. In the near term, pricing is expected to rise as harvest activity increases, groves dry out, and supply works to catch up with demand.

ALERT! Organic Mandarins have been impacted the most by California weather challenges, and prices are expected to continue rising until supply rebuilds and new varieties begin in late January.

NOTE: Organic Navels have also been impacted by weather, with harvest delays contributing to rising markets as the season progresses.

NOTE: Organic Limes continue to see rising costs as production remains limited due to persistent rain. Markets are expected to continue increasing through January and February.

NOTE: Organic Blood Oranges, Minneolas, and Cara Cara Oranges have started, though harvest crews are prioritizing higher-volume items to support core programs. Specialty items will be sporadic for January.

OG BERRIES

GOOD NEWS! Organic Blackberries remain highly promotable out of Central Mexico on shipper brands, with excellent quality, strong flavor, and aggressive pricing supporting low retail and increased volume.

Organic Blueberries are holding steady as Chilean volume continues to arrive, with additional volume expected to build later this month in preparation for early February promotions. Quality has been excellent across arrivals.

Organic Raspberries are steady from Central Mexico, offering exceptional quality with consistent pricing and volume.

Organic Strawberry pricing is easing as volume gradually increases from Central and Baja, Mexico. Quality from Central Mexico has been strong, while Baja Organic Strawberries have shown some minor quality issues that are expected to improve mid to late January with better weather and fresh arrivals. Pricing is easing on shipper brands, while Driscoll's is commanding a premium.

OG APPLES

GOOD NEWS! Organic Envy Apples continue to be a standout promotional item for January, offering excellent quality and attractive markets. NOTE: Promos have been so good, there may be fill-rate gaps in early January until the supply chain can refill.

Organic Ambrosia Apples are in a brief supply gap, with additional volume expected to arrive late January and move into a steadier supply position thereafter.

Organic Cosmic Crisp Apples remain in firm supply with strong markets.

Organic Evercrisp Apples are expected to finish up for the season by the end of January as remaining supplies wind down.

Washington Organic Gala Apples and Organic Honeycrisp Apples remain in a demand-exceeds-supply situation, resulting in strong and rising markets along with occasional supply disruptions. This is expected to be a season-long condition. Some opportunities may develop on off-grade and off-size Organic fruit.

OG COLOR BELL PEPPERS

Organic Colored Bell Peppers are currently sourced primarily from Israel, while Mexican production continues to build. Availability is adequate with slightly elevated pricing tied to import costs and overall supply. As February nears, increased Mexican production is expected to create promotional opportunities as pricing improves.

OG GRAPES

Organic Grapes are in steady supply on both Organic Red Grapes and Organic Green Grapes.

NOTE: Organic Green Grapes are expected to tighten toward the end of January as some South African volume was diverted to Europe due to high US tariffs.

OG ARTICHOKEs

Organic Artichokes are back in good supply with clean arrivals. Current inventory is working through 24-counts and transitioning toward preferred 12-count sizing with steady availability.

OG CELERY

ALERT! Organic Celery and Organic Celery Hearts pricing is higher. Improvements are not expected until February. Shorter turns are recommended.

OG SPECIALTY VEG

Several new and returning California Organic Vegetable items are arriving, including Organic Easter Egg Radish, Organic Red Spring Grilling Onions, and Organic White Spring Grilling Onions.

Mexico Organic Anaheim Peppers and Organic Poblano Peppers are also returning to the mix.

OG AVOCADOS

Organic Hass Avocados from Mexico have been limited following the Christmas and New Year holidays, as grower harvests slowed during that period and tightened overall availability.

OG KIWIFRUIT

Organic SunGold Kiwifruit from Zespri are in season with both clamshell and bulk options offered. Supplies are expected to carry through most of January.

Markets moved up a little as a result, though pricing is expected to ease back into more promotable levels later this month and into early February as supplies improve.

Organic Mammoth Kiwifruit in clamshells from California is available to start the new year, though supplies are limited and may not last through the end of the month.

48ct sizing is what is limited to start January, so 40ct and 60ct will be good to push.

OG PEARS

GOOD NEWS! Organic Anjou Pears, Bosc Pears, and Red Anjou Pears are in excellent supply with strong quality and promotional opportunities available. Large displays are encouraged during this period to maximize Pear movement.

OG LETTUCE

GOOD NEWS! Organic Romaine Hearts are in flush supply from Lady Moon Farms and West Coast shippers, offering promotable opportunities in late January.

Organic Leaf Lettuces including Organic Green Leaf, Red Leaf, and Romaine remain promotable from Lady Moon Farms in Florida with excellent quality and dependable coverage.

Organic Iceberg Lettuce from California is steady with strong quality.

OG EGGPLANT

Organic Eggplant from Lady Moon Farms in Florida is in decent supply, though a slowdown in production is expected later this month due to a recent cold snap.

Supplies are expected to remain manageable in the short term, with Organic Eggplant from Mexico filling in as Florida production recovers.

OG SPECIALTY CITRUS

ALERT! Buck Brand Organic Specialty Citrus has seen many of their peak season items end early, have issues, or delayed starts to their next ones - all due to weeks of heavy rains, fog, and cold weather impacting orchards.

NOTE: Done for the season as of mid-January from Buck Brand: OG Makrut Limes, OG Key Limes, OG Calamondin, OG Chandler, OG Lee/Nova/Lee Nova & Satsuma & Algerian & Fairchild Mandarins, OG Buddha Hands, OG Limequat, OG Finger Limes, OG Daisy, OG Red Globe & Thai Sweet & African Shaddock Pummelo, OG Pink Variegated & Meyer & Lemonade Lemons, OG T'Orange, OG Sweet Lime, OG Oro Blanco & Melo Gold.

UPDATED ETAs from Buck Brand: Late January start for OG Moro Blood, OG Centennial Kumquat, OG Gold Nugget, OG Lavender Gem, OG Pixie. February for OG Marmalade and OG TDE Triple Cross Mandarins. March for OG Sanguinelli and OG Late Navel. April for OG Midknight Valencias and OG Valencia.

ALERT! Organic Dill remains tight with prorates in effect from multiple growers.

NEW: Bunched Organic Mint is returning from Florida with improving availability.

Organic Mini Seedless Watermelons from Mexico are sizing smaller, primarily 8-count and 9-count fruit, with limited availability on 6-counts. Pricing is expected to remain steady later this month.

OG CUCUMBERS

Organic Mini Cucumbers and Organic Euro Cucumbers from Canada remain consistent with dependable quality and good availability at average pricing.

GOOD NEWS! Promotional opportunities on Organic Euro Cucumbers from Mexico are expected to develop in mid-January.

Organic Cucumbers from Mexico are seeing slight price increases, though supplies remain good and overall markets are still reasonable. Demands strong.

OG TOMATOES

Canadian greenhouse production continues to provide reliable Organic Beefsteak Tomatoes and Organic Cluster Tomatoes. Availability is steady with average pricing, and additional Organic Tomato volume from Mexico is becoming more available in mid-January.

Organic Roma Tomato programs are stabilizing following recent tightness, with improving volume and strengthening availability. Pricing is becoming more favorable as mid-January approaches.

Organic Snacking Tomato demand remains strong, while supply from Lady Moon Farms in Florida is running below average. As volume improves, supplemental Organic Snacking Tomato production from Florida and Mexico will help maintain availability. Pricing remains average with consistent quality.

OG BEANS

NOTE: Organic Green Beans from Mexico are fairly tight. Pricing remains reasonable, but supplies are not currently promotable. Some Organic Green Bean volume from Florida may become available later this month.

ALERT! Organic French Beans from Guatemala remain limited due to excessive rain and container delays. Orders should remain conservative, with intermittent shortages expected.

OG TROPICALS

Organic Pineapples from Mexico are in steady supply through mid-January, while Organic Pineapples from Costa Rica remain limited. NOTE: Pricing continues to run high across all origins.

Organic Mangoes from Peru are favoring heavier, larger sizing to start the year. Very little 12ct Organic Mango fruit is available and is commanding a premium, while the best value opportunities are expected in 7ct and 8ct sizing through mid-January.

Organic Feijoa have finished for the season, and Organic Passion Fruit from California is nearing the end of its run. Volumes of Organic Passion Fruit are extremely limited as the season winds down.

NEW: Premium Organic Red Turmeric from Florida is now available in very limited quantities. This specialty Organic Red Turmeric is high quality and sourced from a small northern Florida farm, with availability expected to remain tight.

OTHER STORIES

Organic Asparagus demand has softened following the holiday period, with clean fields and steady supply supporting reliable coverage and quality.

GOOD NEWS! Organic Fennel from Lady Moon Farms in Florida is flush with clean bulbs and reliable sizing.

Organic Pomegranates from California have completed their season, though Organic Pomegranate Arils remain in steady supply in 4-ounce containers.

ALERT! Supply and quality issues are lingering for Organic Baby Arugula due to the impacts from wet, rainy weather in the Southwest salad growing regions. Low yields from mildew, yellowing, and post-harvest decay are present. All major organic salad brands are struggling to refill the supply chain during January on Organic Baby Arugula.

NOTE: Organic Carrots, including bags and value-added items, remain limited due to ongoing weather challenges in California and Georgia. Allocations continue, so Bolthouse product supplement Grimmway/Cal-O until the California desert opens in February and Georgia conditions improve later this month.

CONVENTIONAL MARKET NEWS

JANUARY 9 - JANUARY 16, 2026

ABUNDANT BLACKBERRIES & RASPBERRIES

GOOD NEWS! Blackberries and Raspberries are highly promotable out of Central Mexico, offering excellent quality, strong flavor, and sharp pricing that supports aggressive retail opportunities for mid-January!

GOOD NEWS! Strawberries remain readily available from Florida and Mexico. Florida Strawberry volume has recovered following a recent cold snap, while Mexico continues to supply strong volume with promotable markets.

Florida Strawberries continue to deliver excellent quality and flavor, with pricing expected to remain steady mid to late January.

NOTE: Blueberry supplies are expected to tighten as Peru arrivals taper off, with lighter Chilean acreage resulting from replanting to newer varieties and limited volume coming out of Mexico. Quality remains strong across all growing regions.

Driscoll's Sweetest Batch Blueberries continue in peak season from Peru and Mexico with outstanding flavor and bigger sizing. Sweetest Batch Strawberries from Florida and Sweetest Batch Blackberries from Mexico are also available for January.

CV APPLES

NEW: Washington Aura Apples, first of the season, are expected to arrive later this month. This unique yellow Apple, bred from Honeycrisp and Aurora parents, offers a distinctive burst of honey and melon flavor.

GOOD NEWS! Envy Apples continue to stand out as a strong promotional opportunity in January, featuring excellent quality and favorable markets. Displays are encouraged to maximize movement during this period.

Cosmic Crisp Apple markets remain firm, supported by strong export demand and increased domestic movement. As a result, availability is tighter than anticipated.

Washington and Eastern Gala and Honeycrisp Apples remain in a demand-exceeds-supply situation, driving strong and rising markets along with occasional supply disruptions. This is expected to be a season-long condition.

Washington LucyRose Apples are expected to finish up for the season in late January as remaining supplies wind down.

CV TOMATOES

GOOD NEWS! East Coast domestic Roma Tomatoes and Round/Vine Ripe Tomatoes are improving alongside consistent Mexican crossings. Availability is regular, with pricing at average levels and improving into mid-January.

Canadian greenhouse Beefsteak Tomatoes and Cluster Tomatoes remain steady with strong quality. Pricing continues to run elevated due to lower yields and strong demand, with current conditions expected to persist into late January.

Snacking Tomato supplies remain consistent with both field-grown and hothouse production available. While availability is steady, limited production could create intermittent shortages as the month progresses, potentially impacting pricing.

CV CITRUS

ALERT! California Citrus has been heavily impacted by minimal sunlight, persistent rain, early morning fog, and low temperatures, placing significant stress on citrus trees and sending groves into shock.

ALERT! An early end to the California season is expected, along with ongoing quality challenges, supply issues, and inconsistencies for the balance of the season. In the short term, prices are expected to rise as harvest activity ramps back up, groves dry out, and supply works to catch up with demand. Most fruit will be culled or has dropped from trees.

ALERT! Mandarins have been the most affected by California's weather challenges, and markets are expected to continue rising until supplies improve and new varieties come online in late January. ALERT! Halos supplies will gap during mid January, so filling in with other brands will be needed.

NOTE: Navels have also been impacted by weather, with small fruit remaining very limited for the remainder of the season.

NOTE: Lime costs continue to rise as production remains limited due to persistent rain. Markets are expected to continue increasing through January and February.

CV ASPARAGUS

Asparagus from Mexico and Peru continues to show solid supply, though crossings are presenting some quality concerns. Standard sizing remains steady, while Jumbo remains limited, with markets expected to climb into February.

OUTLOOK: Looking ahead, February through April remains the prime promotional window for Asparagus with new crop Caborca, Mexico volume and quality in peak season, making it an ideal time to begin planning features.

CV STONE FRUIT

Chilean import Apricots, Cherries, Nectarines, and Peaches are currently available with very nice quality and fair, steady markets.

New Black Plums are expected to arrive later this month, and offering a full selection of Stone Fruit is encouraged to drive stronger overall sales.

CV BRUSSELS SPROUTS

ALERT! Brussels Sprouts remain very limited on the West Coast, with discoloration and occasional early decay. Broad relief is not expected until early February.

Belgium iceless Brussels Sprouts remain a viable alternative, though port delays can impact timing.

ALERT! Mesh, value added, and microwave packs are even tighter due to added handling and cold chain sensitivity reducing shelf life.

CV CELERY

ALERT! Celery and Celery Hearts markets are trending higher and are expected to peak before easing closer to February. Quick inventory turns are recommended.

ALERT! Dole sleeved Celery and Dole Hearts remain limited and command an even higher premium, with non-Dole labels supplementing availability.

CV SCALLIONS

ALERT! Scallions continue to experience tight supplies, resulting in expensive pricing. Supply gaps and higher markets are expected to persist, until late January.

CV AVOCADOS

GOOD NEWS! Avocados remaine promotable through the holiday season and into the new year, with strong momentum expected to carry through the Super Bowl period.

CV MELONS

Melon supplies are improving, with better availability expected going forward on both Cantaloupes and Honeydew.

Seedless Watermelons from Florida have finished for the season. South-central Mexico continues to supply the market, though production is past peak, resulting in rising markets.

Mini Seedless Watermelons from Guatemala and Honduras are in steady supply with favorable weather across multiple regions. Markets are expected to strengthen as volumes come off peak supply, with Mexico remaining available as a secondary option.

CV GRAPES

OUTLOOK: Import Grapes are shaping up for promotion toward late January and into early February, with Chilean fruit arriving in strong waves alongside a steady flow of Peruvian volume.

Large sizing will show the best price point, while Jumbos will be the top shelf variety trading at a premium.

CV KIWIFRUIT

Green Kiwifruit volumes from Italy and Greece increase by mid-January, allowing markets to soften slightly as additional supply enters the pipeline.

Red Kiwifruit in a clamshell 16-count, 1-pound pack from California is also available with limited but steady volume.

SunGold Kiwifruit from Zespri is in good supply despite strong demand, with availability in both 8-count, 1-pound SunGold clamshells and volume-filled options through January.

CV WARM VEG

A recent cold snap in southern growing regions has slowed production on several items, including Green Squash, Eggplant, and Cucumbers. As a result, slight price increases are being seen, though overall supplies remain adequate.

Green Bell Peppers appear to be less impacted by these conditions.

CV CUCUMBERS

Canadian hothouse programs continue to provide stable Mini Cucumber and Euro Cucumber volumes with good quality.

GOOD NEWS! Availability remains consistent with average pricing, while increased Euro Cucumber production from Mexico is expected to create promotional opportunities in mid-January.

CV HARD SQUASH

NOTE: Acorn Squash supplies are tightening, requiring some flexibility on sizing to keep product moving. Pricing is expected to remain steady.

Conventional Kabocha and Delicata season have concluded, and offerings will now be Acorn, Butternut, and Spaghetti Squash.

Wintercrop specialty hard squashes will be stocked in our Organic assortment: OG Delicata, OG Kabocha, and OG Koginut.

CV LETTUCE

Romaine Hearts are showing improved trims, more consistent weights, and easing costs as acreage scales. Promotable pricing is expected later this month.

Iceberg Lettuce supplies are steady with desert fields open, and markets are easing as availability stabilizes.

Leaf Lettuce varieties, including Green Leaf, Red Leaf, and Romaine, are plentiful as desert production ramps up. Fills are clean, availability is strong, and pricing is soft enough to support light to moderate promotions.

CV BROCCOLI & CAULIFLOWER

Broccoli Crowns and Bunched Broccoli supplies remain steady on the East Coast out of Georgia, while desert volume from California is clean and competitive. With Mexico contributing, the overall market remains steady as eastern production transitions toward Florida.

Broccoli Rabe supplies are steady, though costs increased due to rain and earlier short supplies. Fields are improving, but pricing has been slow to return to historical averages.

Sweet Baby Broccoli remains generally steady, though shipper positions vary widely, creating uneven offers from period to period.

GOOD NEWS! Cauliflower continues to offer steady quality and supply from California, with promotable pricing holding firm.

CV PEPPERS

GOOD NEWS! 15lb Elongated Sweet Peppers are coming into peak season from Mexico at value pricing.

GOOD NEWS! Colored Bell Pepper production from Mexico is increasing, creating favorable market conditions as January continues. Pricing is improving quickly, and promotions are recommended for mid to late January.

NOTE: Orange Habanero Chili Peppers remain in tight supply as Florida crops continue to struggle. Some relief is anticipated late January as Mexico begins production.

New bag 16/3lb White Onions (code 4586), and 16/3lb Red Onions (code 247399) are available.

Pineapple volumes remain steady, though markets are expected to firm slightly by mid-January. All sizes are anticipated to remain available during this period.

Most of the industry Mango supply has transitioned to Peru, with the Kent variety offering excellent eating quality. Supply conditions through mid-January are expected to remain steady, with pricing easing from earlier levels.

OTHER STORIES

NOTE: Bicolor Corn from Florida remains available, though markets are tightening and pricing is expected to rise as supplies draw down.

GOOD NEWS! Jumbo Artichokes continue to offer promotable quality and good availability, with pricing expected to remain firm and workable through the balance of the month.

NOTE: Carrot supplies, including bags and value-added items, remain tight as rain in Bakersfield and cold, wet conditions in Georgia limit availability. Bolthouse will remain a key supplier until the California desert opens in February and Georgia conditions improve later this month for Grimmway.

POM POM Pomegranate Arils are expected to remain steady to start the new year across all sizes, including the new 2-pack 8-ounce twin pack option.

Pomegranates from Israel have begun arriving on the East Coast, allowing for a smooth transition from the final California POM Wonderful volume into imported fruit.

Black Mission Figs from Mexico are moving into higher volume by mid-January, with pricing becoming more promotable as supplies build.

SUMO
CITRUS®
